Exploring Text Features

Authors use text features to bring attention to important details. In a nonfiction article, text features include titles, subheadings, photos, captions, charts, and maps.

Directions: Answer the questions below to help you explore the text features in "The Hunt for Lost Pirate Gold."

1. Read the headline and look at the image on pages 4-5. What mood do the title and image create?

2. Describe the large photograph and map on pages 6-7. How do these images work together to tell a story?

3. Consider the captions for "The Food," "The Work," and "The Life." What does the information in these captions contribute to the article?

4. The subheading of the last section of the article is "A Dream Come True." What would be another appropriate subheading for this section? Explain your answer.
